The library of the Girls' High School has just received from a friend of the Public Schools a large edition of "Spofford's Library of Choice Literature," consisting of five volumes. It is a valuable gift. The girls have in the past eleven years, spent in pictures, books and magazines $144.50, thus meriting the appreciation that seems to be coming to them.

The regular meeting of the County Medical Society yesterday was an occasion of unusual interest, due to the Society's first year and adding an impetus which will place it beside the best of its kind. It was in evidence that members were getting to work and that discussions are daily growing thoughtful and earnest as becomes the more importance of chosen subjects. The leading essay was that of Dr. Thomas E. Pickett, entitled "Some Notes on Recent Methods in the Surgery of Fractures, with Special Reference to Massage and Mobilization," and bristled with practical facts and suggestions, which were many and instructive to all. The paper was in the Doctor's happiest style and should be given a hearing before the conferees of the Society. Dr. Davis of Maysville was appointed regular essayist for the next meeting.

Most delightful entertainment was the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wadsworth in honor of their charming guest, Miss Colquhoun of Gallatinville. The returning line was composed of Mrs. and Miss Wadsworth, Miss Colquhoun, Pearce, Rogers and Johnson. About fifty of Maysville's society people were there and many elegant toilets were displayed. Mrs. Wadsworth was attired in an elegant black crepe, Miss Wadsworth, black organdy with white lace, and Miss Colquhoun, green organdy with yellow bow. Miss Pearce, white over pink, Mrs. Rogers, white silk, Miss Johnson, blue muslin. Among those present from a distance were Mrs. and Mr. Fred Fowler of Aberdeen, Messrs. Roberts, Allen and Eberhart of Covington and Torenson of Ripley.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Martin were the attendants and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. O. A. Vaughn of the M. E. Church, South.

The charming little home had been most beautifully decorated with the state dahlia and magnificent chrysanthemum, and there were about seventy guests present, with congratulations and delicious refreshments.

The presents were numerous, useful and appropriate, just such as a young couple starting a home needs.

The bride, who becomingly attired in white organdy trimmed in tulle and ribbons, and carried a bunch of bride's roses. She is a young lady of most admirable qualities and has a wide circle of friends.

Miss Kittie Thomas were white organdy over pink silk, and carried pink roses.

The newly-wedded couple will tomorrow take up their home on Mr. Kiddier's farm in the Western part of the county.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Martin in the West End at 7 o'clock their daughter, Miss Nettie Kerr, became the bride of Mr. Lennia Kiddier.

Miss Kittie Thomas and Mr. Clarence L. Martin were the attendants and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. O. A. Vaughn of the M. E. Church, South.

"MY FRIEND FROM INDIA."

What a Charleston (W. Va.) Paper Has to Say This Excellent Comedy.

The Charleston (W. Va.) Mail-Tribune of October 24th says the play that will be at the Opera-house tonight:

"An intelligent audience of fair proportions assembled Saturday night to see 'My Friend From India,' which was fully up to expectations in every particular. It was presented by an exceptionally strong company and no one but a chronic dyspeptic could have found fault anywhere for an adverse criticism. Charleston people never saw a better play of the kind and they echo the opinion of their metropolitan friends that 'My Friend From India' is the best thing of the kind that has been produced in several years. It is not a long piece of buffoonery and idleness, but is made up of wholesome fun and happy bits, with a little quaint philosophy thrown in here and there that commends it to intelligent people who need and appreciate a little rest now and then from the cares, worries and humdrum of everyday life."

BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

AN AMINOUS EIL.

Movements of Gen. Sir George Stewart White and Gen. Yule Are Clouded.

CENSORSHIP WORKS WITHOUT A HITCH

It is Now Almost Certain That The Two British Commanders Have Effected a Junction.

A Squadron of Hussars Cut Off By The Boers, But They Brilliantly Fought Their Way Through—Three of Them Are Missing.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—With unbecoming humor, a Cape Town correspondent telegraphed Wednesday: "The censorship, which is always a delicate matter, is working smoothly and without a hitch."

This exactly hits the state of affairs at present. An ominous veil is still drawn over the movements of Gen. Sir George Stewart White and Gen. Yule. Beyond belated Ladysmith dispatches concerning the Elandsfontein fight, which are still floating in the British public, is left in complete darkness and to conjecture "censored" war office dispatches. The officials of the war office Wednesday evening said that very few dispatches have arrived and that nothing further was to be expected until morning.

Since it is practically certain that Gen. Yule has now effected a junction with Gen. White—although this was not brought about Tuesday night as announced by the Daily Mail, but some time on Wednesday—and as both are now in a position of safety, conjecture concerns itself chiefly with the manner of Gen. Yule's retreat. That it was hasty is evident. Was it dictated by? Was any considerable camp equipment abandoned? Was there any fighting on the way? Such questions and like them the public is anxiously asking. Significantly, the Gen. White's curious first description of the Ladysmith fight, in which the British lost a hundred men without reliance can be placed on the official dispatches. With the exception of the facts regarding Gen. Yule's retreat, can be amply justified on the ground of keeping the intelligence from the Boers, the hiding of the news respecting the Hussars at Elandsfontein were apparently captured in the battle of Glencoe, is severely criticized, no intimation even having been given that the officers were missing.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A squadron of hussars usually consists of three troops of 28 men each, or about 80 officers and men of the 18th Hussars are supposed to have been captured.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Ladysmith, dated Monday, says: "Thirty of the 18th Hussars who were sent from Glencoe to intercept the retreat of the Boers from Elandsfontein were cut off by the enemy. Under sergeant Haldy they brilliantly fought their way across the Biggarsberg, the enemy pursuing and firing at them at a range of 300 yards along the passes. They arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning. Three of the troop are missing owing to the breakdown of their horses. The Boers used a Maxim. A lieutenant of the Hussars with a party was driven back to Glencoe. The Hussars were fired at as far down as Molekgrat."

The war office returns show that the total British casualties since the beginning of hostilities reach 897, 13 officers having been killed and 33 wounded, and 78 men killed and 430 wounded. There are 13 unaccounted for.

This total however, does not include the squadron of the 18th Hussars which went astray near Dundee and the officers of the Dublin Fusiliers. The report of heavy losses sent from Rietfontein came as an unpleasant surprise, as Gen. White's telegram to the war office Wednesday gave the impression that there was merely a brush.

Gen. Sir Redvers Buller is expected to arrive at the Cape early next week and the indications are that his nine troops have already arrived at the front and been in the fighting whose arrival has not yet been announced. There is every probability therefore that reinforcements are now moving up. This is calculated to hasten Commandant Gen. Joubert's attack on Ladysmith and news of a big battle is daily expected.

Carriage Builders Meet.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 26.—The Carriage Builders' Association, which went astray near Dundee and the officers of the Dublin Fusiliers. LEUT. BRUMBY IN ATLANTA.

He Was Given a Public Reception, and Presented With a Sword From the People of Georgia by Gov. Candler.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26.—The arrival of Lieut. Brumby of the Olympia Wednesday night to receive his formal welcome into the city and his native state, was the signal for a noisy and enthusiastic demonstration. A special train on the Western Railway brought him from his home at Marietta, Ga., 20 miles from Atlanta, where he went Tuesday to spend a short time with his mother and relatives. Wednesday night he was given a reception at the Capital City Club and Thursday the presentation of the sword from the people of Georgia took place. The ceremony occurred in front of the state capitol and the sword was presented by Gov. Candler. Brumby and the reception committee then went to the reviewing stand on Peachtree street, where the military band, made up of troops from all parts of Georgia and many adjoining states, was witnessed. ELECTRICITY VS. STEAM MACHINERY.

The General Lessons of the War in No Way Indicate Any Desirable Change in Motive Power.

Amalgamation of the Constructive Bureau of the Department Opposed—Specialization of Modern Mechanical Work Favored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The three leading features of the annual report of Adm. Melville, engineer-in-chief of the navy, are the merits of electric versus steam machinery, and the proposition to consolidate the naval construction bureau. The general lessons of the war, it is said, were in no way indicative of any desirable change in the machinery of our ships, with the exception of increasing the evaporating plants and the adoption, with all practical and economical promises, of the water tube type of boiler. Adm. Melville expresses his inability to see indications of the benefit to the navy which was expected to result from the operations of the personnel bill. He said that his hope was to see a vast addition to the number of officers.

men who would give attention to engineering matters, and he still hopes that a comprehensive union of the line and engineering vocations will result, and that no department regulations may be permitted to exist which will prevent this consummation. Department regulations insisting upon service of the line officers alternately in the engine rooms as well as upon deck are necessary, he says, to give them practice.

An important chapter in the report deals with the scope of the work now executed by the bureau of steam engineering, which is set out in order to combat the proposition to amalgamate the constructive bureaus of the navy department; a matter which the admiral regrets has even been speculated on. He says that not only is the trend of modern mechanical work in all branches towards increased specialization, but the wisdom of such a trend is not questioned by the leading talent in the outside world of constructive work.

The steam engineering bureau has finally arrived at the conclusion that it is a mistaken policy to enmesh so far along the practice of dividing the auxiliary machinery of ships by electricity, and the present report presents a strong line of reasoning to support it.
